¹ Short title in English and German language

² Projects that started after January 1, 2009 are encouraged to have a website.

I. Summary for public relations work

The project's most significant results (scientific advances) from the project leader's point of view should be presented on a single page (DIN A4, 11 pt font, line spacing 1.5) in a way that is comprehensible to the general public. In this text, it is important to use as few technical terms as possible in order to ensure that the text is interesting and understandable to people not familiar with the field. The main point should be mentioned at the very start of the summary. Please keep descriptions of the issues addressed and results obtained short and succinct. Possible applications to or implications for social, cultural, ecological, medical, economic or technological areas should also be mentioned briefly.

The summary should be submitted both in German and in English (without special characters). The summaries will be made available via the FWF's project database. The FWF will not edit the summaries, meaning that the authors bear full responsibility for the content of these texts.

II. Brief project report

- To be written in the language of the original application
- Target group: peer reviewers
- Length: not to exceed 16,000 characters (approx. 5 ½ pages) in total; please mention each point (approx. 2,000 words for each point or all together on 4 pages minimum, 11 pt font, line spacing 1.5, no attachments apart from those mentioned in section III)

1. Report on research work

1.1 Information on the development of the research project

- Overall scientific concept and goals;
- Was there a fundamental change in research orientation between the start and the end of the project? If so, what form did the change take, and what effect did it have on the work?

1.2 Most important results and brief description of their significance (main points) with regard to the following:

- Contribution to the advancement of the field (e.g. did the results contribute to increasing the importance of the field? In what way?);
- Breaking of new scientific / scholarly ground (to what extent and in what respects?);
- Most important hypotheses / research questions developed (what relevance did the project have for the development of hypotheses / research questions, e.g. were new hypotheses / research questions developed or old hypotheses disproved?);
- Development of new methods;
- Relevance for other (related) areas of science (transdisciplinary issues and methods).

1.3 Information on the execution of the project, use of available funds and (where appropriate) any changes to the original project plan relating to the following:

- Duration;
- Use of personnel;
- Major items of equipment purchased;
- Other significant deviations.¹

2. Personnel development – Importance of the project for the research careers of those involved (including the project leader)

- Brief comments on the project's effects on the research careers of all project members, including special qualifications and special possibilities / opportunities opened up by the project.

¹ The decision as to what should be regarded as a "significant deviation" is the responsibility of the project leader. As a guideline, any deviation of more than 25% from the original financial plan or work schedule should be accounted for.

3. Effects of the project beyond the scientific field

- Brief comments on specific effects beyond the research field, including activities outside the sphere of academia.

4. Other important aspects (examples)

- Project-related participation in national and international scientific / scholarly conferences, list of most important lectures held;
- Organisation of symposiums and conferences;
- Prizes/awards;
- Any other aspects.

III. Attachments

Publications may only be listed if they relate directly to the project. Up to three of the most important publications should be highlighted as such (e.g. printed in bold letters).

Please note that funding for publication costs can be requested (under the original project number) for up to three years following completion of a project.

Please make sure that all publications are freely available on the Internet. For details, see the Open Access Policy of the FWF. (In the Life Sciences category, all refereed publications are to be made available through Europe PubMedCentral)

Please indicate at the end of every peer-review publication (in brackets) the Open Access (OA) type as following:

- Gold OA = published in Open Access Journal, with or without an author fee (see register of all Open Access Journals <http://www.doaj.org/>)
- Hybrid OA = published in a subscription journal but Open Access by an author fee (see http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Hybrid_open_access_journal)
- Green OA = self-archived electronic copy of the final "accepted manuscript" which might include an embargo period (see: <http://www.fwf.ac.at/en/research-funding/open-access-policy/>)
- Other OA = any other type of Open Access
- No OA = not published Open Access
